NEWS FROM THE COTTAGES

Howard Cottage

Not much has happened for the Bean Stringers lately.

Linda Shepherd had a birthday in October and we gave her a nice party. She received some nice gifts.

Then there was Homecoming Day. We won the game with Spencer. It was a wonderful game and the day was enjoyed by everyone.

Halloween is coming up and we are looking forward to having a good time.

Dr. Lake has been with us this week. We have enjoyed having him very much.

See you next month.

The Bean Stringers.

The Bee Tree

Poets and artists are among us! Our visiting minister, Dr. Julian Lake, returned to Elsie Rannells a water color painting which she had done in the second grade. It is called "The Giant Bird" and, after receiving a blue ribbon award, was exhibited in the Winston-Salem schools.

We like Rita Harris' jingle about our housemother:

"Mama J is sweet, Mama J is kind
I want her to always be mine.
She hugs you—she kisses you,
And that's not all—
She gets the paddle after you
And makes you bawl!

Since Rita's rhyming, all of our girls are coming up with jingles.

Mother Nature is the best artist. She has painted our campus trees in the most gorgeous colors. We have had lots of outdoor fun this autumn. All the grades have taken exploratory walks into the woods. It was fun also to have Scottie Lake visit our cottage on Wednesday night. She went to church with us and sat with our group.

Circle Number 3 of the Mooresville church has invited us to a hamburger supper on October 27th; and, goodie, goodie, they are letting us invite our brothers. We will tell you about it next time.

BARIUM FILM SHOWN ON TELEVISION

Radio station WBTV of Charlotte showed the Barium film, "When the Bough Breaks" on Sunday afternoon, October 21st. Comments from far and wide have been received at the Home since this showing.

However, the greater beauty of the film lies in seeing it

TEAMWORK

The Barium family knows that there is teamwork in the support of the Home. The harvest must be gathered and stored and everybody is busy. The apple house has been filled with select apples to carry through the winter. Large cans of applesauce, jelly and jam have been stacked high for the table. Potatoes are in the potato house, and the pecans and peanuts will be stored. The corn will be gathered and only the winter gardens will be left for attention. This means that the whole family has been busy since the early planting of the summer to make the table supply adequate. This is the Barium family's part and everybody has turned in to do a good job.

The second part of the team work is the Thanksgiving Offering from the people of the churches. It has been the custom for every member of the Presbyterian family to have a part. The children of the Sunday School, the Pioneers, the Senior High Fellowship, The Men of the Church, the Women of the Church, and the people of the congregation have all shared in sending money to meet the needs of the Home. To meet the goal of the Synod which is $100,000.00 it will take the gifts of everyone in all the churches.

Therefore, with the teamwork of the Home and the members of the churches, a sure victory will be the result and the good work of caring for boys and girls can continue unhindered. Follow the plan devised by your church for the receiving of this offering and sending it through the proper channels, but be sure that you are playing on the team.

ALUMNI NEWS

Mirton Cox who is stationed in Louisiana spent a few days of his furlough visiting on the campus and in Troutman.

Jimmy Campbell who is in the Air Force spent a few days at Barium while on furlough.

Louise Bradshaw, student at Montreat College, spent a few days at Barium recently.

Bobby and Delores Ramsey McMannen were visitors on the campus recently. They are living in Winston-Salem and are taking an active part in Lee Memorial Presbyterian Church, both singing in the choir.

Delores Ramsey and Bobby McMannen were married 9-29-56 in the Lee Memorial Presbyterian Church in Winston. They are living in Winston.

Mary Alice Stevens Orci, her husband and three children from Washington, D. C., made a short visit to the campus.

Martha Evans, student at the Presbyterian Hospital in Charlotte, spent the day at Barium.

New Cottages Will Get Paved Walks

The boys and girls of the new cottages will be delighted to have the walkways from their buildings to the dining room and to the road hard-surfaced so that they can keep their feet out of the mud. When the buildings were erected it was deemed wise to wait awhile to see just which way the children would walk as they came and went to the various places from their cottages. These paths have been pretty clearly defined and now they will be surfaced with a plant-mix treatment that will keep the feet of the children dry and clean.

Also, there will be the addition to the church property of a top dressing for the drive-in to the church. The Tar Heel Construction Company of Statesville has submitted its bids and they have been approved and the work will be finished in the immediate future.

One of the greatest blessings that has come to the campus is the laying of hard-surfaced roads through the campus and topping the walks with a dressing that keeps the feet out of the mud and eliminates the dust and dirt of the road so that the campus can be clean, and coming and going during wet weather is not so miserable. It also adds to the appearance of the campus, not only as the walkway, but in defining the lines and enabling grass to be grown on up to the edge of the walks. This conserves the soil and prevents the terrible erosion which has through the years removed a deal of topsoil.

Miss Anita Ghigo Dies In Valdese

Miss Anita Harriet Ghigo of Valdese, N. C., died after several months of illness. Miss Ghigo was well known at Barium Springs during the days that her mother was housemother for the girls of Annie Louise Cottage. Her father was at one time the pastor of the Waldensian Presbyterian Church in Valdese and her brother now is a member of the faculty at Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia. Miss Ghigo has been a teacher in the high school in Valdese for twenty-five years and has rendered distinguished service to her community through her work in the school and the church as she has given her life to young people of her community. All those who have known her will esteem her memory, giving thanks for the excellence of her life.

UNDER THE STEEPLE - Nuggets of News

FROM LITTLE JOE'S CHURCH

REV. ROBERT R. COLLINS, Minister

In recent weeks at our Wednesday night prayer service we have been studying the book of Deuteronomy. We have discovered that this book is a rich mine of spiritual truths that have often been forgotten or overlooked. As I have thought about the Thanksgiving Season two verses from the eighth chapter of this great book have come to my mind. They are a part of the warning which Moses gave to the children of Israel as they prepared to enter the Promised Land. Listen, as he speaks: "Beware lest you say in your heart, 'My power and the might of my hand have gotten me this wealth.' You shall remember the Lord your God, for it is he who gives you power to get wealth." (Deut. 8:17, 18)

These words seem to carry a significant message to the Christians of America at Thanksgiving time. As Moses reminded his people, so he would remind us that it was the guiding hand of God which led our Pilgrim fathers to the shores of America. It is easy for us to forget this and assume that the discovery of America was mostly adventurous and accidental. But as we recall the first Thanksgiving Day in 1621 we will remember that gratitude was offered to God for his providential guidance and care. Not the ingenuity of man but the strength and wisdom of a loving Father was responsible for the establishment of this free land where all may worship God without fear.

Another matter which it is well for us to remember is that the wealth of our land was and is the gift of God. Hear the words of Moses, "You shall remember the Lord your God, for it is he who gives you power to get wealth." In these times most of us have more material goods and wealth than we have ever had before. Hence, there is a tendency to say, "I have earned this, it is mine!" But the Bible stands as a constant reminder that even the power to get wealth, to earn money, is the gift of God. It is therefore altogether necessary that we acknowledge Him as the source of all that we have and offer to Him our prayers of Thanksgiving.

I hope that the Presbyterians of the Synod of North Carolina will engage in such prayer on Thanksgiving Day. Under The Steeple we shall have a special service of worship on Thanksgiving morning, and we shall thank God for the wealth of blessings He has bestowed upon us here at Barium Springs. We shall remember that these gifts have been made possible through your generosity and as we make our offerings it will be with a real sense of Thanksgiving. And we shall not forget that it is through the power of the Lord our God that each of these gifts has come to us. May you find new joy in your heart this Thanksgiving as you make it possible for our family to come to Christ who said, "Let the children come to me, do not hinder them; for to such belongs the kingdom of God."

shown on a 16mm projector for it is not only in sound but also in color. Churches that have not yet had it would enjoy the twenty-three minute run of this film which so beautifully depicts the life of the boys and girls at Barium Springs.

As has been said before, the contents of this film are those suggested by, not only the staff, but also the students, as to what makes up life at Barium Springs. The narration is good and the photography is excellent. Any group would enjoy having it and may do so by writing Barium Springs and making a reservation for the showing.
